Jim Cundy, Kentucky's Records Management Manager
Among the central challenges state government personnel face are managing the enormous amount of information they maintain, and keeping long-term or permanent information accessible to the public. These challenges have become particularly acute now that the use of digital media has become so widespread. This talk will address issues of records management and long-term retention in a digital environment, using Kentucky's government agency's records management programs as examples.

Carl "Chuck" Kinder, Jr.
We spend our money and we spend our time. The way we use our money and our time impacts our future. It is really important we do both as correctly as possible. As we try to succeed in life's challenges, we also have two main responsibilities: we must have success in the workplace and success at home at the same time. Not only are we employees doing our jobs but we are also parents, spouses, grandparents, aunts and uncles. To be truly successful we must get all these things balanced. We must set priorities and have a plan. This session will show you how to develop your own game plan to follow in establishing priorities in order to Make The MOST of Your Time.
